PEOPLE ON THE MOVE IN THE CONTEXT OF DISASTERS AND CLIMATE CHANGE: ADDRESSING THEIR NEEDS AT THE CLIMATE CHANGE NEGOTIATIONS AND WITHIN THE GLOBAL COMPACT FOR MIGRATION

What do the Global Compact for Safe, Orderly and Regular Migration (GCM) and the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change Conference of the Parties 24 (COP24) have in common? Both address displacement in the context of climate change, disasters and environmental degradation. This is important because every year, millions of people are forced to leave their homes due to floods, tropical storms, droughts, earthquakes and other natural hazards.

How can we promote complementarity between the GCM and the recommendations from the Task Force on Displacement? How do we make sure that commitments and recommendations become a reality on the ground? How can we make sure that the link between climate change and human mobility remains on top of the international policy agenda?

Join us to discuss opportunities to better protect people displaced in the context of disasters, environmental degradation and climate change within these two international processes.
